Headline:
Brightening up after a murky start on Tuesday. Feeling milder.

This Evening and Tonight:
A much milder night than of late. Cloudy with patchy rain initially but becoming fine and largely dry though windy later, particularly along the south coast. Further patchy rain may reach western parts around dawn. Minimum temperature 6 deg C (43 deg F).

Tuesday:
A cloudy and damp start, with patchy rain making slow progress eastwards. Some brighter skies developing in western parts, but a chance of brief, heavy showers late afternoon. Maximum temperature 11 deg C (52 deg F).

Outlook for Wednesday to Friday:
Changeable and breezy with rain possible on all days, generally followed by sunny interludes. On the mild side, albeit tempered by the unsettled conditions. Potentially becoming very mild on Friday.
